

WATER SEWER LINE PROTECTION PLAN

Offered through National Water Company

You may be surprised to know that homeowners - not utility companies - are responsible for repairs to the water/sewer pipes that connect their homes to main water/sewer lines in the street.

Damage to your pipes is common from tree roots, seasonal ground shifting or old age, and repairs can run $3000 - $5000 or more. Unfortunately, Normal homeowners insurance doesn't usually cover these costs.

To protect our clients, we have sourced an affordable water/sewer line protection plan with low monthly premiums and up to $10,000 in coverage through National Water Company. Don't be blindsided by costly unexpected pipe damage, enroll today.
